Feintool presses and machines
 for maximum productivity and flexibility

There are over 2000 fineblanking presses and fineblanking systems supplied by Feintool in service at customers around the world.

The portfolio of products in the press segment comprises mechanical and hydraulic fineblanking presses of various type series with total forces from 1600 kN up to 14,000 kN.

These machines are equipped – according to the customer’s requirements – with integrated peripheral systems such as material feed and scrap separating machines, tool changing systems or unloading devices.
